

Reef Knot

1.

2.

3.

1.

2.

3.

Joining Knot

Joining knots are used for joining ropes together. The Reef Knot and the Fisherman's Knot are used when joining ropes of the same thickness together, whereas the Sheet Bend is better suited to ropes of different thicknesses.

The Joining Knots are

The Reef Knot

The Sheet Bend

The Fisherman's Knot

4.

The Reef Knot is used for tying bandages, because when tied it lies flat.

Sheet bend

4.

5.

When tying with light and heavy lines and braided rope it will be necessary to secure with a stopper knot or complete a number of turns as it Stage 4